From my 30 years of extensive experience with many types of bike trailers, I find BicycleR Evolution® trailers deceptively simple, yet elegant. An excellent answer for the excuse of using an automobile for all of those little daily trips around town because "I don't have room to carry my stuff."

I pull my trailer always (yes! always) when commuting and on errands around town. It is so easy to pull (no fuss, no muss), it doesn't slow me down. The convenience and intuitiveness in use are so undeniable that I am no longer ever seduced by the appearance of needing the car. When I am carrying my computer or an important package on my daily commute to work, I just put it in my trailer knowing it will be safe and dry.

They are so durable and economical everyone in my family has one. (We have four!). This means each person has a complete self-powered, non-polluting transportation system. We even occasionally bunji fairly large items on top. I know the BicycleR Evolution® trailer has made my life healthier, as my exercise/commute habit is never disrupted, because "only the car will do today".

Customer Testimonials

Thanks for getting back to me so quickly. Last night I loaded about 75 lbs. worth of well needed groceries on my trailer and rode up a very big hill to my house. Your trailer pulls many times better than my BOB Trailer did, with much less pushing on the bike. At this point I need another hitch for my second bike.

Robert Levengood

I've had the trailer on the back of my cross bike and it handles wonderfully. You may use me as a reference if you need to. I've been looking for something like this for a long time, as the axle in our tandem tends to break carrying us and all our gear for traveling week after week. Jim, my partner, and the engineer on the crew likes the design very much. Hope you do well in sales.

Sue Paulsen

The trailer arrived on Friday. I took it for a spin (18 miles) on Saturday, and it performed beautifully. Only when I cranked hard up a hill did I notice it was there. All in all you did a fine job. If anyone asks me about how to get one, I will send them your way. By the way, I have it in at work with me. I carried my precious cargo, my viola, and it did fine. It is still in tune!

Nils Turner Musician, Atlanta Georgia

The trailer arrived yesterday. It is together and has already been tested. I like it. It is light, simple, yet ingenious, tracks well, is quite, and generally pretty cool. Tonight is the Atlanta Bicycle Campaign's monthly social. The trailer will be spotlighted and will be put to work carrying a box of recently printed t-shirts. Without the trailer, a car might have been pressed into service to carry the box. I will let you know what other people's comments are, and how we use the trailer.

Jim Chapman - Atlanta Bicycle Campaign

Later Jim writes: Everyone with the Atlanta Bicycle Campaign thinks the trailer is great! Now we would like to order a second, and two extra hitches.

I've been meaning to drop you a note. I picked up the trailer frame a month ago or so and have been working on a custom "box". In the mean time I put on one similar to the one you use and have been using that regularly. THIS IS A GREAT PRODUCT! The trailer tracks perfectly, it is light, it is quiet, the hitch is easy to use, it's great. Right now I'm using it on my Brompton for shopping, but the hitch should be usable on my Tour Easy for touring. Keep up the good work.

Jeff Brandt Corvallis OR

I love the trailer. It keeps things DRY in the rain above all!!

Martin Kreig - Director: International Bike Route Directory-Trans AM Vet-National Bicycle Greenway

What a beautifully designed trailer! Having never seen one in "person" before, I am impressed at how intelligently the frame goes together and how simple the total design is. All aluminum and steel construction, no gadgets or plastic/nylon fittings to fail. The waterproof plastic box will be perfect for touring. I can't wait! I plan on making a slightly larger slatted wooden box for carrying bulkier items (i.e. five gallon buckets of flour and/or messy stuff like compost or construction and gardening tools. I'll probably leave off the top and use some elastic netting of some kind. When I need to switch containers its just a matter of unscrewing three bolts-brilliant! Anyway thanks for the new trailer! Several folks already have asked me about the trailer and I have passed along your brochure. I plan on bringing it with me to the next Burlington Bike Council meeting to show it off. Hopefully the idea will spread!
